

IN RESPONSE TO REQUEST, INFORMATION IS GIVEN ON HOW TO EAT A CREAM PUFF

Polite circles in Salt Lake are much interested by a question as to the proper method of eating cream puffs. The open season for cream puffs is now on, and the discussion thus becomes one of time importance. The Herald has been appealed to by telephone for information on the subject, which it hastens to furnish.

Some of those who advocate adherence to the established custom of society in the older days insist that the puffs should be eaten with the fingers, as of yore. That is, the puff to be eaten is grasped, gently but firmly, conveyed almost to the lips and delayed there for an instant while steady and careful pressure of the fingers is brought to bear. With a properly constructed puff, this process will cause the cream to ooze quietly through fissures that will be created in the puff by the pressure of the fingers. Extreme care should be observed at this point, especially if one belongs to the class accustomed to show proper respect to clothing. The fissures having been created and the cream having oozed, the cream is taken into the system by a series of gentle applications of the tongue to the affected parts of the puff. Do not act hastily. Nothing could be in worse taste than to lap hurriedly the cream from the surface of the puff. Having consumed the cream, close the puff after the manner of folding an opera hat, roll it up and force it between the lips. The rest is easy.

Advocates of the use of the fork contend that there is the only proper method. Against this, however, is the circumstance that many of our most prominent people are not sufficiently skilled in the use of the fork to enable them to employ it against a cream puff with safety and comfort to themselves and to those who are sitting in the same room. Authorities are practically a unit in their

SAY MUCH GRAIN IS GARNERED

Women Report on Stores to Relief Society Conference.

FAMINE PROPHECY CAUSE

"MOTHERS' MEETINGS" AND BALLOT BOX DISCUSSED.

The theme of the Relief society meeting held yesterday afternoon at the assembly hall was the garnering of grain. Out of the many reports given by the various representatives of the stakes no woman omitted the mention of this item, and amounts of grain varying from a few bushels to thousands were enumerated in "the granaries of the Lord." In Taylor stake, Alberta, Canada, it was stated there had been gathered somewhere in the neighborhood of 12,000 bushels, while others reported that the destruction by insects was so great that they were obliged to sell the grain one year and store each year afresh.

The origin of this custom was recalled in conversation by a Relief society member present, who said that the Saints are in constant anticipation of the famine prophesied by the late Heber C. Kimball, which should visit this land sometime in the immediate future. In preparation for the event the men had been admonished to store grain against the time of need, which had failed to do so, and the work of preparation devolved on the women. The idea is that the famine will visit this land in the form of locusts, and if the "outside" has to come to them for grain, they will be able to reap harvest in coin for their provident savings.

However, the collections of grain reported at the meetings are used for the poor, the contributions being made thus in the famine districts for convenience. As to "Mothers' Meetings," three of the speakers among them Mrs. Margaret Romney of English stake and Mrs. Annie Wells Cannon of Granite stake, deplored the fact that no women were interested in the work of the Relief society.

The meetings which are called "mothers' meetings," are not attended by mothers any more, said Mrs. Romney. "The grandmothers being the only ones present to hear the words of wisdom offered at these meetings. I have been asked whether we will continue the work of the 'mothers' meetings' or not, and I cannot answer till I have counsel on this matter."

No counsel was offered to Mrs. Romney in the matter, but the next speaker called down copious blessings on the heads of all those in authority, and asked that the sisters sustain them with faith and prayers, because all that they did was in accordance with God's command. Mrs. Nellie C. Little read a short address on "The Miracles of Christ," speaking especially of his attitude toward women. The speaker said that though Christ frequently rebuked his enemies and even his disciples, he never rebuked a woman.

Dr. Romanus B. Pratt Penrose was the next speaker, and took for his topic "Loyalty." She advised the women to be loyal to their presiding officers, whether they thought them to be right or wrong. She said:

"I think sometimes that we sisters are not so loyal in sustaining those in authority as the men are. I hear sisters criticizing one another in a way that the men never do. We should pray earnestly for those who are over us, and they will be sustained by our faith and prayer to do the right thing always, whether we think it right or not."

Urges Taking Counsel in Voting.

GOULD WINS OVER RAMSEY

First Step in Fight for Wabash Is Decided.

RELEASES BLOCK OF STOCK

PRACTICALLY DECIDES DIRECTORATE ELECTION IN ADVANCE.

St. Louis, Oct. 9.—In the St. Louis circuit court today Judge Daniel C. Taylor denied the application of Joseph Ramsey, Jr., deposed president of the Wabash railroad, for an injunction to restrain the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain roads or their trustees from voting Wabash stock held by or for those railroads in the annual Wabash election to be held in Toledo tomorrow.

News of the decision was telegraphed at once to Toledo, where George J. Gould and his supporters and Joseph Ramsey and his personal advisers were. The failure of the injunction suit, which if successful would have tied up a large block of Gould stock, is regarded as a most important victory for the Gould interests.

Toledo, O., Oct. 9.—George J. Gould arrived in Toledo this afternoon ready for the annual meeting of the Wabash railroad which is to be held tomorrow. Joseph Ramsey, Jr., ex-president of the road, is expected to be present and is the chief antagonist of Mr. Gould, who is also on the ground prepared to fight for the control of the Wabash system.

With Mr. Gould came Winlaw S. Pierce, a director of the Wabash, and Mr. Gould's legal adviser, Edgar T. Welles and Colonel W. H. Blodgett, vice president of the system, and E. J. Jeffery, president of the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western roads, who are Gould's chief lieutenants. Other directors of the road are here, and all of them seem friendly to Mr. Gould and disposed to uphold his interests. Mr. Ramsey, save for his legal advisers, seems to stand practically alone.

Mr. Gould himself this afternoon declined to discuss the probable outcome of the meeting, but his friends confidently predict that he will not only retain control of the Wabash system, but that when the smoke of battle has cleared away it will be found not only that Mr. Ramsey failed to gain control of the system, but that he has been removed from it entirely and that his name does not even appear in the new board of directors.

Ramsey Keeps Up Front. Mr. Ramsey, like Mr. Gould, declined to make predictions. He is, however, to all appearances cheerful and confident to a degree. Neither side will give figures as the total number of proxies controlled, but the Gould party declared tonight that the decision of Judge Taylor in St. Louis, which gave to Mr. Gould practically 140,000 votes, meant nothing to him so far as ability to control the meeting is concerned. No matter how that case was decided, they claim, Mr. Gould has so large an excess of votes that he could not only have lost the 140,000, but could even have transferred them to Mr. Ramsey without altering the result.

To state such as these Mr. Ramsey says nothing. He simply laughs and says: "We will know all about it tomorrow."

Part of Fight Abandoned. At a conference held at noon between Mr. Ramsey and his attorneys, it was decided, in view of the decision of Judge Taylor, to abandon the fight started by Mr. Ramsey for the removal of the three men who have for several years acted as judges of election at the annual meetings of the Wabash railroad.

When the court assembled this afternoon Judge Doyle, Mr. Ramsey's counsel, said: "Since the adjournment of the hearing this morning, we have seen the telegraphed decision of the federal court in St. Louis upon Mr. Ramsey's application to restrain the voting of the stock held by the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain railroads. The decision says that great illegals have been committed, but because Mr. Ramsey last year voted the stock in the same manner which he is now seeking to prevent, he is estopped from asking relief. In view of this important decision, which affects fully one-third of the vote, we now ask permission to withdraw our application for the removal of the three election inspectors."

Judge Kincaid granted the application to withdraw.

CHOOSE DIRECTORS TODAY. Union Pacific Stockholders to Hold Annual Meeting in Salt Lake.

Union Pacific railway stock will be voted this noon at the annual meeting of the company in its local office for the election of officers. The indications point to the fact that this meeting will be a formal re-election of the present board of directors, or, in other words, a voting of the majority of the stock by the Harriman representatives. No suggestion of conflict has come from the east, and it is from there these things emanate. The Union Pacific directors are a body composed of men in close touch with Mr. Harriman.

No efforts to get control of stock on the part of other interests than those now in control of the road have come to light, and it is expected the election will pass off with the simple formality of a few lawyers and road officials reciting stock which has been placed in their hands for this purpose.

That's the personal question a woman asks herself when she reads of the cure of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Why shouldn't it cure her? Is it a complicated case? Thousands of such cases have been cured by "Favorite Prescription." It is a condition which local doctors have declared incurable? Among the hundreds of thousands of sick women cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription there are a great many who were pronounced incurable by local doctors. Wonders have been worked by "Favorite Prescription" in the cure of irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

I commenced taking your medicine, "Favorite Prescription," nearly a year ago for chronic inflammation of womb, and can truly say it is the only thing that ever did me any good," writes Mrs. L. Wagner, of 125 Edinboro, Toronto, Ontario, Canada. "I could not walk and stand before using it. After taking six bottles of your Favorite Prescription I find I can walk without difficulty and am greatly benefited in general health. Would advise all suffering women to use Dr. Pierce's medicine."

These are the Original Little Pills. First put up over 40 years ago, by Dr. R. V. Pierce. They have been much imitated but never equaled. Smallest, easiest to take and best. They're tiny, sugar-coated, and bilious granules, a compound of refined and concentrated vegetable extracts. "Favorite Prescription" is a powerful, reliable, and safe remedy for all ailments of the female system. It cures all ailments of the female system, including irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

Looking Toward Portland. Portland, Ore., Oct. 9.—The Oregonian today says that although the local representatives of the Gould interests disclaim any knowledge of the intentions of the Western Pacific railroad as to building a road into Oregon, it is asserted from other sources that terminal properties are being obtained in Portland and that right of way agents will soon come from California to begin preliminary negotiations for the proposed route. Material evidence, the Oregonian says, of the genuineness of the intentions of Western Pacific, which gave up an early date in the formation of an auxiliary company, it is claimed, that will, under another name, make the fight for an entrance into Portland.

Amendment Now on Record. An amendment to the articles of incorporation of the Rio Grande Western railway company was yesterday filed in the office of the county clerk to cover the Black Rock branch of the road. The amendment says the line starts at a point about five miles westerly from the company's depot at Bingham Junction and runs northwesterly and westerly about twenty miles to a point on the south shore of Great Salt Lake.
